1.22 Section 1. Minnesota Statutes 2006, section 152.18, subdivision 1, is amended to read:

1.23 Subdivision 1. Deferring prosecution for certain first time drug offenders. If 1.24 any person who has not previously participated in or completed a diversion program
1.25 authorized under section 401.065 or who has not previously been placed on probation 1.26 without a judgment of guilty and thereafter been discharged from probation under 1.27 this section is found guilty of a violation of section 152.024, subdivision 2, 152.025,
1.28 subdivision 2, or 152.027, subdivision 2, 3, or 4, for possession of a controlled substance,
1.29 after trial or upon a plea of guilty, and the court determines that the violation does not 1.30 qualify as a subsequent controlled substance conviction under section 152.01, subdivision

2.1 16a, the court ~~may shall~~, without entering a judgment of guilty and with the consent of 2.2 the person, either (1) defer further proceedings and place the person on probation upon 2.3 such reasonable conditions as it may require and for a period, not to exceed the maximum 2.4 sentence provided for the violation. ~~The court~~ or (2) enter a written finding that states
2.5 substantial and compelling reasons why a deferral is inappropriate. For any other person 2.6 who is found guilty of a violation of section 152.024, subdivision 2; 152.025, subdivision
2.7 2; or 152.027, subdivision 2, 3, or 4, for possession of a controlled substance, after trial 2.8 or upon a plea of guilty, and the court determines that the violation does not qualify as a 2.9 subsequent controlled substance conviction under section 152.01, subdivision 16a, the 2.10 court may, without entering a judgment of guilty and with the consent of the person, defer
2.11 further proceedings and place the person on probation upon such reasonable conditions 2.12 as it may require and for a period not to exceed the maximum sentence provided for the 2.13 violation. If the court grants a deferral, it may give the person the opportunity to attend 2.14 and participate in an appropriate program of education regarding the nature and effects of 2.15 alcohol and drug abuse as a stipulation of probation. Upon violation of a condition of the 2.16 probation, the court may enter an adjudication of guilt and proceed as otherwise provided.
2.17 The court may, in its discretion, dismiss the proceedings against the person and discharge 2.18 the person from probation before the expiration of the maximum period prescribed for the 2.19 person's probation. If during the period of probation the person does not violate any of the 2.20 conditions of the probation, then upon expiration of the period the court shall discharge the 2.21 person and dismiss the proceedings against that person. Discharge and dismissal under this 2.22 subdivision shall be without court adjudication of guilt, but a not public record of it shall 2.23 be retained by the Bureau of Criminal Apprehension for the purpose of use by the courts
2.24 in determining the merits of subsequent proceedings against the person. The not public 2.25 record may also be opened only upon court order for purposes of a criminal investigation,
2.26 prosecution, or sentencing. Upon request by law enforcement, prosecution, or corrections
2.27 authorities, the bureau shall notify the requesting party of the existence of the not public
2.28 record and the right to seek a court order to open it pursuant to this section. The court shall 2.29 forward a record of any discharge and dismissal under this subdivision to the bureau which 2.30 shall make and maintain the not public record of it as provided under this subdivision. The 2.31 discharge or dismissal shall not be deemed a conviction for purposes of disqualifications 2.32 or disabilities imposed by law upon conviction of a crime or for any other purpose.

2.33 For purposes of this subdivision, "not public" has the meaning given in section 2.34 13.02, subdivision 8a.

5.24 When filing the petition, the person shall pay a filing fee in the amount required under 5.25 section 357.021, subdivision 2, clause (1), unless the court allows the petitioner to proceed 5.26 in forma pauperis under section 563.01.

5.27 Subd. 2. Contents of petition. (a) A petition for a certificate of good conduct must 5.28 be signed under oath by the petitioner and state the following:

5.32 (3) all of the petitioner's addresses from the date of the offense in connection with 5.33 which a certificate is sought, to the date of the petition;

6.1 (4) why the certificate is sought and why it should be granted;

6.2 (5) the details of the offense for which the certificate is sought, including the date
6.3 and jurisdiction of the offense; either the names of any victims or that there were no 6.4 identifiable victims; whether there is a current order for protection, restraining order, or 6.7 petitioner from contacting the victims; the court file number; and the date of conviction;

6.15 (8) the petitioner's criminal charges record indicating all prior and pending criminal 6.16 charges against the petitioner in this state or another jurisdiction, including all criminal 6.17 charges that have been continued for dismissal or stayed for adjudication, or have been the 6.33 certificate order on any victims of the offense for which the certificate is sought who have 6.34 requested notice pursuant to section 611A.06. Service under this paragraph does not 6.35 constitute a violation of an existing order for protection, restraining order, or other no 6.36 contact order.

7.1 (c) The prosecutorial office's notice to victims of the offense under this subdivision 7.2 must specifically inform the victims of the victims' right to be present and to submit an 7.3 oral or written statement at the hearing described in subdivision 4.

7.4 Subd. 4. Hearing. A hearing on the petition must be held no sooner than 60 days
7.5 after service of the petition. If the petition is filed in the judicial district where the offender 7.6 was sentenced, the sentencing judge should preside over the hearing when possible.
7.7 Parties to the action may call witnesses to establish or refute the petitioner's eligibility for 7.8 the certificate. A victim of the offense for which a certificate is sought has a right to submit 7.9 an oral or written statement to the court at the time of the hearing describing any conduct 7.10 of the offender that has occurred after the offender's sentencing that is relevant to the issue 7.11 of whether the offender has been rehabilitated, including the effect of this conduct upon 7.12 the victim. The judge shall consider the victim's statement when making a decision.

7.13 Subd. 5. Eligibility. A person is eligible for a certificate of good conduct under this 7.14 section if the following conditions are met:

7.15 (1) the person has been successfully discharged from the sentence imposed for the 7.16 offense for which the certificate is sought and is not under correctional supervision for 7.17 any other offense;

7.18 (2) the person is not currently required to register as a predatory offender under 7.19 section 243.166;

7.20 (3) the person has been law abiding for the following period immediately preceding 7.21 the filing of the petition: (i) for a person convicted of a crime against the person or who 7.22 was required to register as a predatory offender, five years; or (ii) for all other persons, 7.23 three years;

7.24 (4) the person demonstrates rehabilitation, which may be shown, among other 7.25 ways, by evidence of the person's good character, employment, volunteer activities, or 7.26 participation in vocational, educational, treatment, or rehabilitation programs;

7.27 (5) the person has paid or the court determines the person is making a good faith 7.28 and consistent effort to pay court-ordered fines, restitution, and other costs related to the 7.29 crime for which the certificate is sought;

7.30 (6) for petitions for certificates for crimes where an element of the offense involved 7.31 alcohol or a controlled substance, that the person is not abusing alcohol or using a 7.32 controlled substance;

7.33 (7) the issuance of the certificate is consistent with the public interest; and

7.34 (8) any other factor deemed relevant by the court, including, but not limited to, the 7.35 severity of the conduct that constituted the offense for which the certificate is sought.

8.1 Subd. 6. Issuance of certificate. A judge shall issue a certificate of good conduct 8.2 to a petitioner if the petitioner establishes by a preponderance of the evidence that the 8.3 petitioner meets the eligibility requirements specified in subdivision 5, clauses (1) to (7), 8.4 and any other factor required by the court under subdivision 5, clause (8).

8.5 Subd. 7. Record with Bureau of Criminal Apprehension. After ruling on a 8.6 petition under this section, the court shall notify the Bureau of Criminal Apprehension of 8.7 the court's ruling. The bureau shall record the court's ruling on the petitioner's criminal 8.8 record.

8.9 Subd. 8. Effect of certificate. (a) A certificate of good conduct issued under this 8.10 section creates a presumption of rehabilitation in favor of the person to whom it was issued 8.11 and relieves the person of any state-imposed collateral sanction, as defined in section 8.12 609B.050, relating to eligibility for housing, employment, or professional licensing arising 8.13 from a crime for which the certificate was issued.

8.14 (b) A certificate of good conduct has no effect on collateral sanctions that are 8.15 unrelated to housing, employment, or licensing.

8.16 (c) Consistent with paragraph (a) and other applicable law, a housing or licensing 8.17 authority or employer may, but is not required to, take into account a conviction that is 8.18 the subject of a certificate of good conduct when making a housing, licensing, or hiring 8.19 decision.

8.20 (d) A housing or licensing authority or employer is not civilly or criminally liable for 8.21 relying on a certificate of good conduct when offering housing, employment, or licensing
8.22 to a person. This paragraph does not relieve a person from any other legal duty in making 8.23 a housing, employment, or licensing decision not related to the conduct that is the subject 8.24 of the certificate of good conduct.

8.25 (e) Evidence relating to a conviction for which a certificate of good conduct has been 8.26 issued is inadmissible in a civil action against a housing or licensing authority or employer 8.27 for negligence or other fault in renting, leasing, licensing, or hiring if the authority or 8.28 employer relied on the certificate when making the underlying decision.

8.29 (f) The existence of a certificate of good conduct is admissible as evidence of 8.30 reasonable care by a person who relied on it when making a housing, licensing, or hiring 8.31 decision related to the subject of the certificate.

8.32 Subd. 9. Revocation. A certificate of good conduct is revoked by operation of law 8.33 if the subject of the certificate is subsequently convicted or adjudicated delinquent for 8.34 a new crime.

8.35 Subd. 10. Limited effect. A certificate of good conduct has only the effect given 8.36 in this section. A certificate does not act as a pardon or expungement. The certificate

9.1 does not relieve the person to whom it was issued of any collateral sanctions or legal 9.2 disabilities related to predatory offender registration, eligibility to possess firearms, or 9.3 driver's license sanctions.

9.4 Subd. 11. Crime for misuse. Unless a greater penalty is specified elsewhere in 9.5 statute, a person who knowingly uses or attempts to use a revoked certificate of good 9.6 conduct or who fraudulently alters or forges a certificate of good conduct is guilty of a 9.7 misdemeanor.

9.8 EFFECTIVE DATE. This section is effective July 1, 2008.

9.9 Sec. 7. Minnesota Statutes 2006, section 611A.06, subdivision 1a, is amended to read:

9.12 certificate of good conduct under section 364.20 is being sought shall make a good faith 9.13 effort to notify a victim that the expungement or a certificate is being sought if: (1) the 9.14 victim has mailed to the prosecuting authority with jurisdiction over an offense for which 9.15 expungement or a certificate is being sought a written request for this notice, or (2) the 9.16 victim has indicated on a request for notice of ~~expungement~~ release submitted under 9.17 subdivision 1 a desire to be notified in the event the offender seeks an expungement or a 9.18 certificate for the offense.

9.19 A copy of any written request for a notice of expungement or a certificate request 9.20 received by the commissioner of corrections or other custodial authority shall be 9.21 forwarded to the prosecutorial authority with jurisdiction over the offense to which the 9.22 notice relates. The prosecutorial authority complies with this section upon mailing a copy 9.23 of an expungement or a certificate petition relating to the notice to the address which the 9.24 victim has most recently provided in writing.

9.31 the commissioner shall assess: (1) the appropriateness and proportionality of the sanctions 9.32 set forth in the guidelines; (2) the use of intermediate sanctions and the potential for 9.33 expanding the use and number of intermediate sanctions; and (3) the option of capping the
